Sequin trimming, $2 per roll; Michaels Stores. Credit: Tara Donne Dunk miniature pumpkins in bright tones for a modern otofal display. What you needkewers, shoebox, miniature pumpkins, latex paint, bucket, painter's tape (optional)Make It1. Screw four skewers through the shoebox to create a place to dry pumpkins.2. Pour the paint into a bucket that is wider than the larger pumpkin.3 Immerse the squash at a right or angled angle and let the excess drip from the bottom into the bucket.4. Rest the pumpkins on the skewers to dry by dripping. Allow to dry completely (at least 4 hours).5. For pumpkins submerged in the top, mask the stem with painter's tape, so that it is not painted, if desired.
